

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1882.

NO. 53.

THE fair train will stop at the old depot all this week.

KELLEY BRENT was sworn in as County Attorney last week.

COLE's circus is billed for Louisville the 19th, and will probably arrive here by the 25th.

TOM BROWN's prayer would make a good Exposition-opener tomorrow at Cincinnati.

THE old depot will be torn down in a few days, and a side-track put down in its place.

It is believed that Mr. Huntington is about to extend the Kentucky Central to Gallatin or Nashville, Tenn.

DAN NICHOLS' celebrated premium triplet steers, are now on the fair grounds, and will be shown Wednesday.

Sam Ewalt, the up-town livery man, will run a fine hack to the fair grounds this week, and also to the hops.

AFTER we all get cooled down a little, the freight depot will be removed to the position now occupied by the turn-table.

A SINGLE fare on the Lexington street cars is ten cents. Five tickets good till used can however, be bought for a quarter.

THE change of cars on to the Maysville branch at the new depot, will save conductors answering 400,000 questions annually.

NOW if some enterprising man will open up a first-class restaurant near the new depot, he will make money hand-over-hand.

THE K. C. will move their turn-table and round-house down into the forks of the junction, and spread side tracks where they now stand.

TRAVEL over the Flemingsburg and Pound Gap railroad has been suspended for several days, occasioned by the engine breaking down.

THE Lexington folks are as proud over those little street cars and pickinny mules, as a four-year-old boy would be of his first red wagon Christmas gift.

THE wardrobes of the Huntley troupe are perfectly exquisite, and two of the actresses exhibit arms with symmetrical attractions rarely found on the boards.

ONE of Sid Kennedy's three-year-old show steers, weight 2,000 pounds, got badly gored by a bull Saturday, and it will probably not be shown at our fair.

THE BOURBON NEWS will offer a special premium next year at our fair, to the county paper that will not publish it's news the day before verbatim et literatim.

THE Lexington Fair Association cleared $10,000 at their recent fair. They will enlarge their amphitheater 100 feet on each end, and build a machinery hall next year.

CHARLIE GORMAN has been appointed baggage master at our new depot, and Dick Talbot has been given charge of the water-tank and the Houston and Stoner bridges.

THE skeleton of James Brown, who disappeared mysteriously from his home at Cynthiana, July 31, was found on Buzzard's Island, a few miles below town, a few days since.

THE Arlington House, Blue Lick Springs, closed last Friday, after clearing $3,500 during the short season. Capt. Turney and family, and Col. O'Neal have returned to this place.

SAM Pryor, of this county, took five first and two second premiums on his celebrated Bob Lee family of Berkshires, and Mr. Hoffman, also of this county, took the grand sweep stakes premium on a Poland-China hog, at the Lexington Fair.

THE HUNTLEY troupe in "Flirtation" last night was first-class. The audience, though not so large as it should have been, was a very appreciative one. The play-to-night will be a new one entitled "Divorced"—not "Divorce," which has long been on the boards. We anticipate a jammed house this evening.

SINCE Tom Williams has been superintendent of the "Black Maria" sleeper for Flat Rock and all points in the Pocket, things have been conducted rather loosely. Last Friday the coach left Paris containing two dogs and a preacher. Here's a "pointer" for some good man, who should at once start an opposition line.

CONFERENCE commences at Carlisle, tomorrow.

The officers of the Bourbon County Agricultural Association have adopted a resolution prohibiting betting and gaming of all kinds on their grounds, and will positively enforce it.

One feature of the Louisville Fair this year will be a parade on the evening of the last day of all the stock that have taken premiums during the week, headed by a band of music.

MRS. RACHEL MILLER and Johnnie offer their farms near Millersburg, at private sale in this issue. This is one of the finest improved farms in the State, and it is seldom that such a piece of property is put on the market.

CHARLIE FITHIAN and all of us newspaper fiends are discommoded worse than all the city, about the depot removal. It's about time for us to meet some where and "resolve"—or become intimate with the bus drivers.

We met a colored man on the street yesterday carrying a forty pounds watermelon. He looked as though he felt bigger and prouder than a Cynthiana Fair officer with one of those blue silk and gold tinselled badges on.

HENRY DAUM, the fastidious barber who uses 500 clean towels per week, and diamond-edged razors on all occasions, would have all who want a first-class shave for a dime, to give him a call. Shop opposite the post-office.

Next thing on the tapis is the fair—a season for matrimonial engagements—a fine suit, gold watch, a few drinks, a fast horse and fancy buggy takes precedence of thought, rational thought, for the future in such matters. Marry in haste and repent at leisure is the way.

YESTERDAY was a big court-day. The town was jammed with both people and stock. Edmondson reports 400 cattle, mostly inferior quality, and in demand at 5c. Good cattle would have met better sales. Mules in good demand at $125 and $200. Good horses sold at $125 to $200.

HUNTLEY, manager of the dramatic troupe now here, got slightly cut in ten places Saturday night, by a colored man who tried to intrude into the dress circle. After the cutting, the cutter cut for the woods, and hasn't been caught yet. Huntley still keeps his place on the boards.

"HOUSTON, G—d d—n you, how's your health?" is the way a drunken colored man from Millersburg, greeted Lee Houston, the big butcher's clerk of our city the other day. When he got up out of the dust in the middle of the street, where Lee had knocked him by a lick with his fist about the ear, some darkies remarked to the drunken one "his health appears to be pretty good."

W. B. Gano, son of Gen'l Richard Gano, of Centerville, was wedded in grand style last Thursday night at Georgetown, to Miss Nettie Grissom. The attendants were Misses Annie and Eva Grissom, Katie Gano, Eva French, Bettie Bradley, and Maggie Brent, and Messrs. John Gano, Flournoy Innes, Lieutenant Barry West, Messrs. Breckenridge Jones, Hal Headly, and Hon. Charles Offutt.

GEO. DORSEY, the favorite with all the "bhoys"—he who greets them all with that pleasant, and affable smile, and deceives not prince or pauper in handing out the "correct" bottle, but is the same good Samaritan to all, would respectfully ask all strangers who would revive their weary soul with a "wee drop," or while away a weary hour at pool or billiards, to call on him at T. O. Bashford's new and palatial rooms on Main St., opposite the Court-house.

The New Depot.

Our new depot is in working order—the office paraphernalia having been moved Sunday, from which time all regular trains have been stopping. Though not an imposing structure at a distance, it is very deceiving to the eye. It is 73x22 feet in diameter, and has more room for passengers under roof than any depot on the entire line. The waiting rooms are separate, and are handsomely furnished, and have some adjunct conveniences which others are not blessed with. Surrounding the entire structure, there is largest platform of any depot on the line—that in front being 270x30 feet. Located where it is, it is beyond any doubt a greater convenience to the railroad company, but a great inconvenience to the citizens of Paris and the local neighborhood passenger traffic. The road will lose much in that light, but on the wear and tear and danger of backing the Maysville trains, it will no doubt save time, labor and machinery. Paris people, of course, accept the situation under protest, and will bear up under it a la Barnes, "as best they can."

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.

B. W. Rose, of Texas, was in town Sunday.

True love is like a jack-o'-lantern; it is hard to catch a rarely seen.

Miss Lillie Veach, of Cynthiana, is the guest of Mrs. Jno. W. Hite.

When honesty is sleeping, let the alarm clock of conscience wake up.

The Hon. Ed. Turner and Gen. Abe Buford were in town yesterday.

O. J. Wiggins, of Covington, came up Saturday and staid over Sunday.

Garret Davis, Jr., left yesterday, for Marshall, Mo., to be gone a month.

A lady at Saratoga wears a necklace of gold coins of all sizes worth in all $500.

Judge T. F. Hargis, of Frankfort, was the guest of Ben G. Paton last Friday night.

Lee Houston has arrived here from Payne's Depot, to assist Nippert at the fair grounds.

C. H. Clark, of San Francisco, and formerly of this city, has arrived here to visit friends.

Ben Brinley has arrived here from Baltimore, and is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Henry Hibler.

Miss Pinkey Metcalf has arrived here to be the guest of Mrs. Jno. T. Hinton during the fair.

Mr. S. C. Boulemet, of New Orleans, was in our city last Saturday. He was a hale fellow, bully met.

Why is an inclined plane like a lazy dog? Because an inclined plane is a slope-up, and a slow pup is certainly a lazy dog.

Dinwiddie McKee, of Mason county, called to see us Monday, and ordered us to never let up on sending him the News.

Mrs. Veal took the premiums on butter at the Lexington Fair. It was a bulky display, and hard to beat—even with a paddle.

Holy Moses! Here comes a Georgia woman with sixteen children, and people talk of the good old days of our grandmothers.

Miss Maria Tipton's Japanese quilt not only captured the premium in its own right, but took the grand sweepstakes premium.

A man tickled a small dog's mouth with his moustache Sunday, while a handsome lady was standing by his side, at our depot.

Remember the hops at the Bourbon House Thursday and Friday nights. Governor Blackburn and other State officers will be present.

Dr. Stitt passed up on yesterday morning's train to Lexington, to assist in a third operation of paracentesis (tapping chest,) upon Rev. Dr. Miller.

A boy of 5 and a girl of 2 at Ballardville, Neb., are mated for marriage by their parents, who have signed an agreement that the wedding shall occur in 1897.

At the Lexington Fair, the Singer machine got the premium on the display of cabinet work, and the Domestic on display of machines—no premium offered for work.

Twenty-nine country boys applied for one clerkship in Paducah, a few days ago. The wheat and rye straws indicate which way the boys want to go—to the shade.

None of Frank Carr's clothes will fit him now, since he has gotten into the new and handsome ticket office. The company may have to enlarge his office soon.

Julian Osterdorff, the piano manufacturer and tuner, who has given complete satisfaction here in many instances, has gone to Cynthiana to establish headquarters.

Sixty-five young Indians from the Indian Territory, passed through Cincinnati on their way to Carlisle, Pennsylvania, where the Government has a school for young Indians.

Charlie Brown, of the K. C. road, has offered a $75 premium for the best pair of sorrels at the Maysville Fair, and suggests that it be given to Sam Riley and Horace January.

Mrs. W. R. Cunningham, of this city, took the premium on a silk pincushion, and Miss Belle Mitchell, also of this city, took the premium on an unwashed shirt, at the Lexington Fair.

A pretty girl of 18, neat in dress and polite and manner, is a boot black in Galveston. She has a chair at a street corner, and makes $3 to $6 a day. What hinders her from supporting a dear good husband?

Many a man passes to that great bourne without really knowing his greatness, and probably never does realize it, in consequence of the doubt existing about there being newspapers in the great uncertainty, to clip eulogies published by papers here on earth.

The Trader, Turfman, Farmer and Sportsman.

There will be a $1,000 trotting race at the Bowling Green fair.

Stock hogs are worth ten cents at Eminence, and corn is selling at forty cents in the field.

Several Fayette county farmers have refused $100 per acre for the tobacco crop in the field.

Charles Redmon refused forty cents per bushel for a load of sprouted wheat here last week, and hauled it back home.

R. H. Hooper drove a Whalebone-Morgan mare, to a buggy, from Boston, Mass., to Lexington, Ky., a few days ago, and has located there.

A Spencer county farmer anticipates getting three crops off one piece of ground this year; First, potatoes; second, corn; third, turnips.

The horse Alexander did not trot at Lexington Wednesday against his record, as had been announced, because he was out of order, but gave some exhibition of his speed.

Garrett Mann, of near Millersburg, wants to feed down 16 acres of green corn to hogs. The field is well watered, and is on the Nimrod Wood farm, three miles north of town.

T. J. Fisher, of Harrodsburg, sold last week, his trotting mare "Quilberta," by Geo. Wilkes, dam Bettie Compton by Blood's Black Hawk, to J. H. Phillips, of Phila., for $6,000.

Millersburg Items.

Pat Bowden is fast improving.

Henry Hunter is reported a great deal better.

Miss Louie Warford will again teach the city school.

The Rev. D. B. Cooper preached his farewell sermon here Sunday.

Charlie Clark only got a red ribbon on his fancy mare at Lexington.

"Cumps" Bradley, an aged and respected colored citizen, is dangerously ill.

Josh Barton owns the mother of Lady Dejanet, the $8,000 mare of W. H. Wilson's.

Nat Collier has sold 200 barrel of new corn to be delivered in town, at $2.50 per barrel.

The sheriff closed C. J. Roden's store Monday, on attachments by Cincinnati merchants.

Ed Carpenter left for the South last Saturday where he will make his home the coming winter.

Dave Conway is acting assistant bar-keeper at the Bourbon House this week.

Dr. Gould will arrive home from Texas Saturday, with a large delegation of students from that State.

Dr. Gould has rented the Mrs. Ann Wallace residence opposite his college, for his teachers to reside in.

Mrs. S. A. Stewart, from Florida, is the guest of Mrs. Mary T. Vi-mont, and made a pleasant visit to the Blue Licks Sunday evening.

Charlie Clarke sold his celebrated premium harness mare Saturday, to Logan Raily, of Woodford, for fancy figures—between $300 and $400.

In a stampede of horses in the ring at the Lexington Fair, Oscar Johnson got a severe cut in the head, but held on to his horse like grim death to a delicate victim.

Col. Thomas Marshall Oliver has returned home after a week's recreation with old friends at the Lexington Fair. The Col. somewhat resembles Col. W. C. Breckinridge after turning his whiskers out.

Eld. W. G. Sweeney and Miss Ida Barton went to Covington Monday—Miss Ida to visit Miss Green, and Mr. Sweeney to meet his daughter, who is coming in from Illinois, to teach the district school near Thos. Thorn's.

Dr. Skillman, of Lexington was called to see John Purnell Saturday, and in consultation with Dr. Stitt, both agree that there are no hopes of his recovery. His disease is the enlargement of one of the many small glands, of the bowels, where they are connected with the spinal column. Cause,—late suppers in addition to the regular meals, and want of exercise.
